Queen and Court reigned over Homecoming

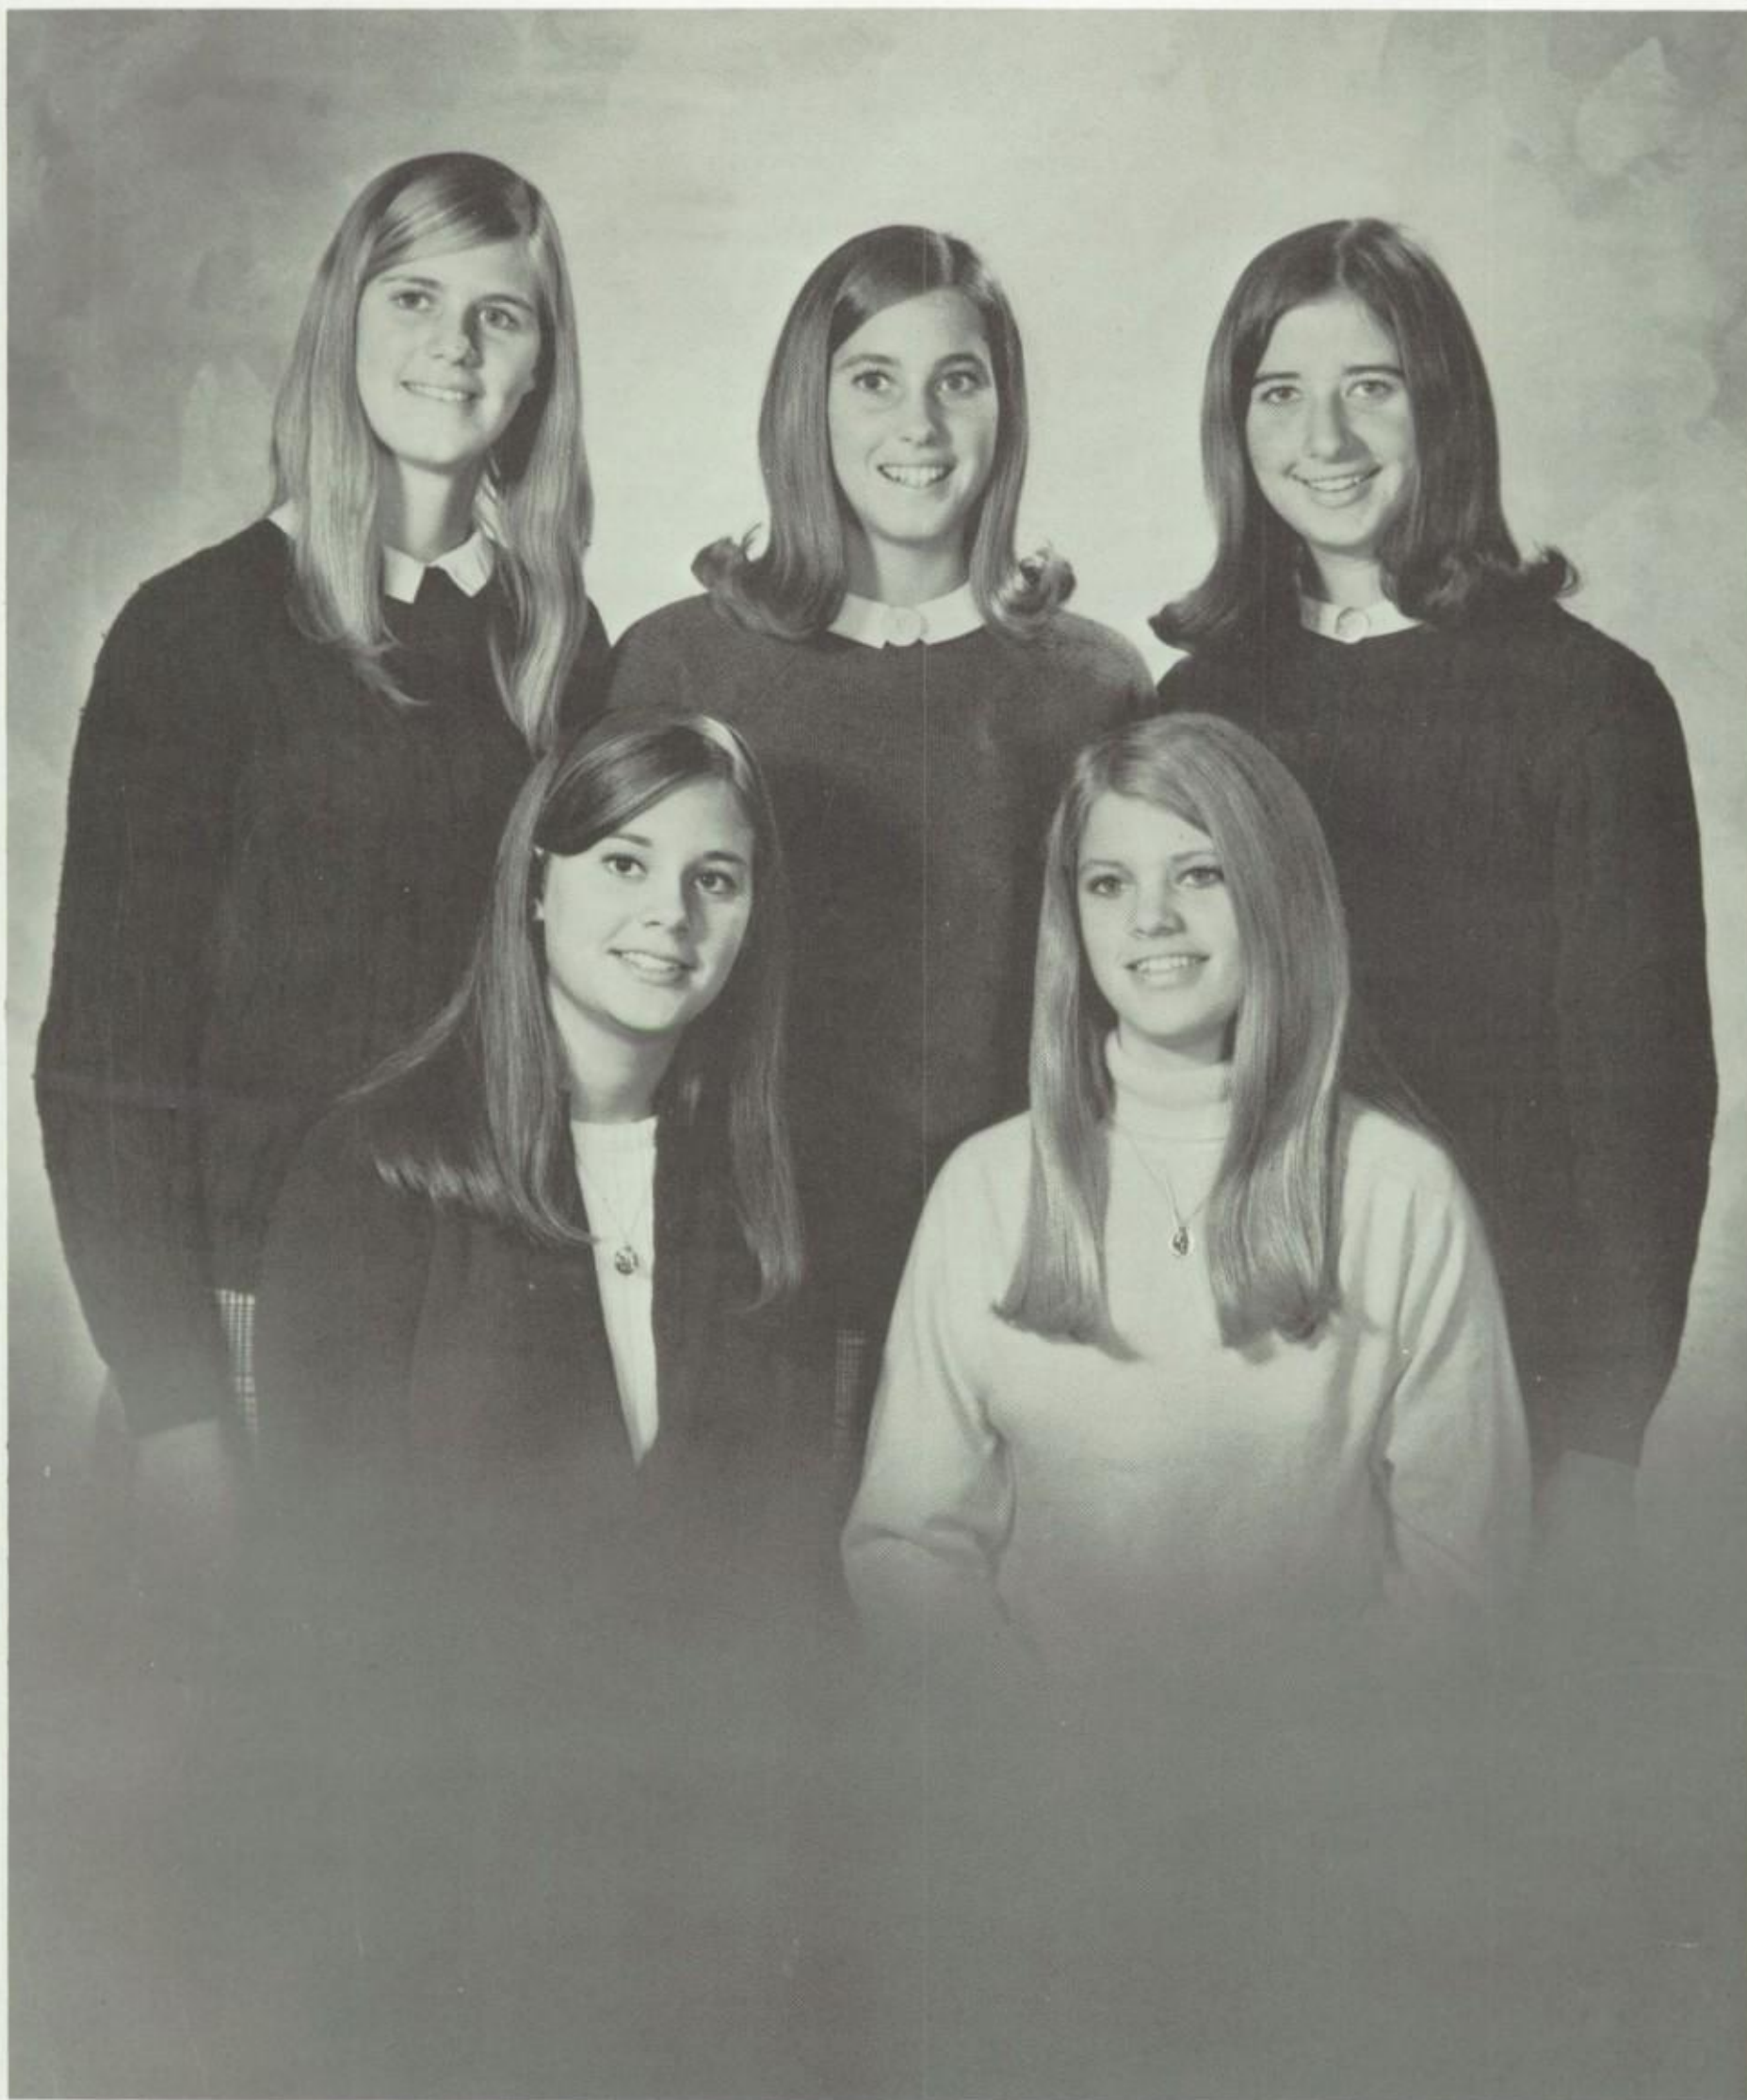

Homecoming queen Vicki Vrieling and her court, sophomore Jennifer Schaap, senior Mary Waskerwitz, senior Jan DeWitt and junior Cindy Roper was honored at the Coronation ceremonies.

The Varsity Club's huge effigy of Grand Haven added excitement to Homecoming week.

"All the Things You Are" was the theme of a most successful Homecoming week. Queen Vicki and her court reigned over the many exciting festivities: the open house, coronation, the bonfire, the victorious game, and the victory dance. Holland's win over the Buccaneers for the first time in 10 years and the victory dance provided the perfect ending to an exciting week.

Harvey haunted Holland High School

Dr. Sanderson (Sam Starks) conducts a very confusing interview.

Mrs. Chumley (Sue Wise) looks for Elwood's note to show Dr. Chumley (Steve Wessels).

Elwood (Kris Pathuis) explains to Kelly (Alice Croff) where to call him.

Judge Gaffney (Mark Cook) complains of his lost golf game to his client Veta Louise Simmons (Penny Victor).

Some 1500 persons were delightfully haunted by a large invisible rabbit November 12-15 in the H.H.S. auditorium. Elwood P. Dowd played by Kris Pathius and his friend Harvey quickly captured the audience's funny bones. Penny Victor as Veta Louise Simmons was a perfect foil to Elwood. Myrtle Mae (Lois Veenhoven), Dr. Chumley (Steve Wessels), and Wilson (Henry MacKechnie) also drew repeated laughs from appreciative audiences. Mark Cook as Judge Gaffney, Joan Boerigter as Ethel Chauvenet, and Sue Ellen Wise as Betty Chumley handled their roles with disciplined sureness. Dr. Chumley's assistants Dr. Sanderson (Sam Starks) and Nurse Beth Kelly (Alice Croff) provided portraits of efficiency and unrequited love. Jim Rossell as E. J. Lofgren added a final touch to the play. Mr. Anderson and student director Mary Duffy staged the comedy hit.

"How are you, Mr. Wilson?" hears a startled Wilson (Henry MacKechnie).

Senior Play delighted large crowds

The cast at Chumley's Rest are Dr. Chumley (Steve Wessels), Mrs. Chumley (Sue Wise), Elwood Dowd (Kris Pathuis), Myrtle Simmons (Lois Veenhoven), E. J. Longren (Jim Rossell), and Judge Gaffney (Mark Cook).

Elwood (Kris Pathuis) shows his sister Veta (Penny Victor) and niece Myrtle Mae (Lois Veenhoven) his best friend Harvey.

Rapunzel captivated young and old alike

Mother Gothel (Sue Wise) admires Margot's (Penny Victor) baby Rapunzel prior to her "baby-napping."

Rapunzel (Alice Croff) warns Prince Eric (Jeff Scott) of the dangers of Mother Gothel's evil charms.

Director JVA gestures to cast to emphasize line.

Otto (Kris Pathuis), under Mother Gothel's spell, is transformed into a tree.

Seniors were big winners during Pep Week

Rev. Mulder pauses to honor a good friend.

Super Junior (Kevin Fitch) wowed the student body with his feats of strength.

In the fall, 21 members of the Class of 69 were tapped to bring to 37 the total membership. This number was the largest in the history of the school. Miss DeWitt and Mrs. Vrieling were chapter sponsors, and Victor Folkert, president, and Ruth Ten Brink, sec.-treas.

Gymnastics return to Holland High

Debbie Slikkers performs in a free exercise routine.

After a lapse of one year, the gymnastic team competed in a schedule of five matches. The events in competition include: free exercise, balance beam, horse, trampoline, tumbling, and uneven bars. Girls must have ability in all events as well as specialization in one or two. Through the year minor injuries such as sprains and pulled muscles were suffered, but the squad was always ready for the matches. Because this year's squad consisted of juniors and sophomores, the added year of experience should help the team improve on this year's competitive record.

One of the tumbling exercises, a flip, is executed by Sandy Steketee.

Wrestlers gained valuable experience in '69

Heavyweight Rick Geerling wins another meet for Dutch with final match victory.

Wrestling returned to the Holland High varsity sports' scene after an absence of 6 years. Its return was welcomed by boys who were anxious to compete in an added winter sport. Even though this season's squad posted a 4-12 record, it was still a very successful year. It was a time for building a strong team for the future. Since this season's team was composed mainly of juniors and sophomores, the most valuable item gained was not wins but experience. Wrestlers competed in 12 weight classes ranging from 95 pounds to the unlimited heavyweight division. Leading wrestlers were Neal Darcy, Tim Onthank, and Rick Geerling. With the added year of experience, Coach Line is looking forward to a much improved second season.

This year's members of the swimming team had the unique privilege of being Holland High's first swim team in history. As a new winter sport, swimming provided a greater opportunity for more boys to participate in a varsity sport. The season began in November and ended in February. The team's first victory came against Hudsonville in February. The tankers finished strongly winning 3 of their final 5 dual meet matches. Hopes for next season are bright with several promising freshmen joining the primarily junior and sophomore squad. Among the leading point scorers were Dave DeRidder, Mike Landis, Fred Bertsch, and Eric Marsh.

The Dutch finished with an overall 13-4 record. In the season's opener, Holland was stopped by defending state champs Ottawa Hills. They went on to win the next seven until number 2 ranked B team Godwin handed the Dutch its second loss. The Dutch went on to win six of their next seven, losing only to East. The final regular season game provided the Dutch's hardest fought victory of the season, a strong win over arch-rival Benton Harbor. In the first game of the state tournaments, Niles gained an upset victory which closed the season for HHS. Holland ranked 12th in the final UPI Class A ratings. Offensively, this year's squad centered around senior guard Dave DeWitt and senior forward Dave Gosselar. Gosselar and Rick Zweering were the leading rebounders. Junior Max Glupker is the lone starter returning to the 69-70 team.

Administration and School Board set policy

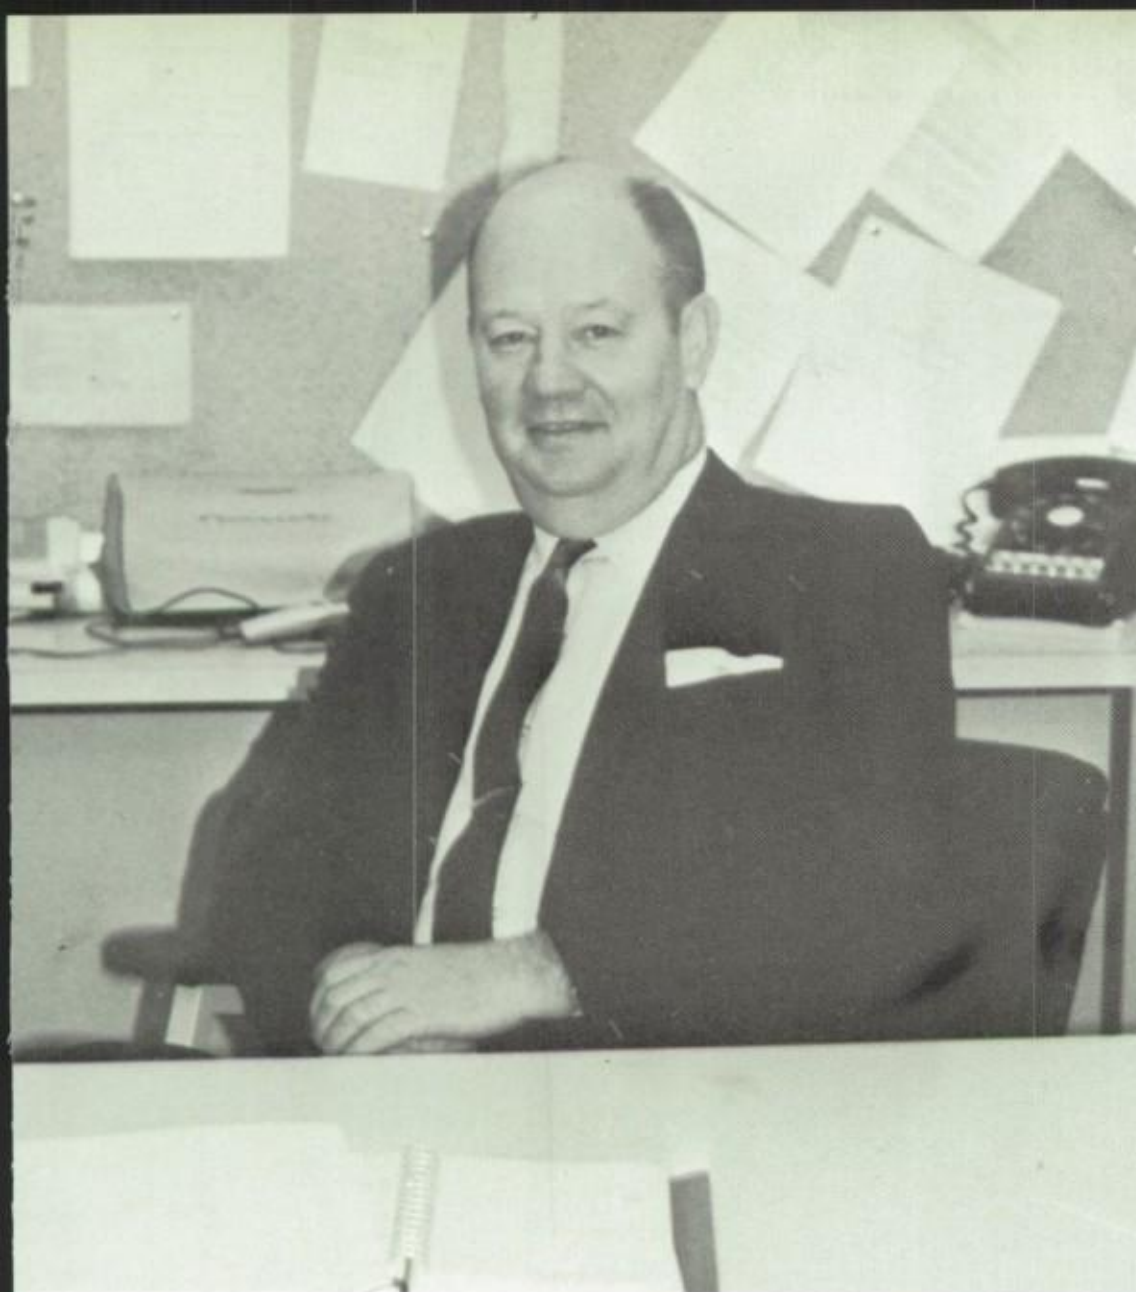

Members of the Holland Board of Education are: SEATED: Mr. John Weeber, trustee; Mrs. Katherine, secretary; Mr. James Lamb, president; Mr. Charles Bradford, Jr., trustee. STANDING: Mr. Harvey Buter, treasurer; Mr. John Keuning, vice-president; Mr. Russel Fredericks, trustee; Mr. Donald Ihrman, superintendent.

Superintendent Mr. Donald Ihrman is directly responsible to the Board for day-to-day school operation.

Mr. Gardner Wieringa, director of curriculum and personnel, has major responsibilities for teacher recruitment.

The task of the high school principal, Mr. Fred Bertsch, is to organize, plan, and maintain a proper school climate for learning. In so doing the high school administrator finds many rewarding experiences, especially when progress can be seen. Organization and planning help create an atmosphere involving purpose and common goals within the classroom. When achievement in all areas improves, a better school results. It is the desire of Mr. Bertsch to be a friend and counselor to each student and to see that each student reaches his full potential both professionally and personally.

Principal and Dean provided leadership to Holland High

Mrs. Edna Dyk, dean of students, is the coordinator of student activities and is the chief mentor of discipline. She also is in charge of student attendance and acts as Student Council advisor.

Counselors provided guidance for careers

PSAT! ACT! National Merit! Do these names sound familiar to seniors? The counseling staff administered these tests and gave evidence to seniors in their all-important college and career choices. Complex problems encountered in scheduling underclassmen were attacked and solved. Counselors were also involved in many student activities, including Athletic Sisters, coaching duties, and various boards.

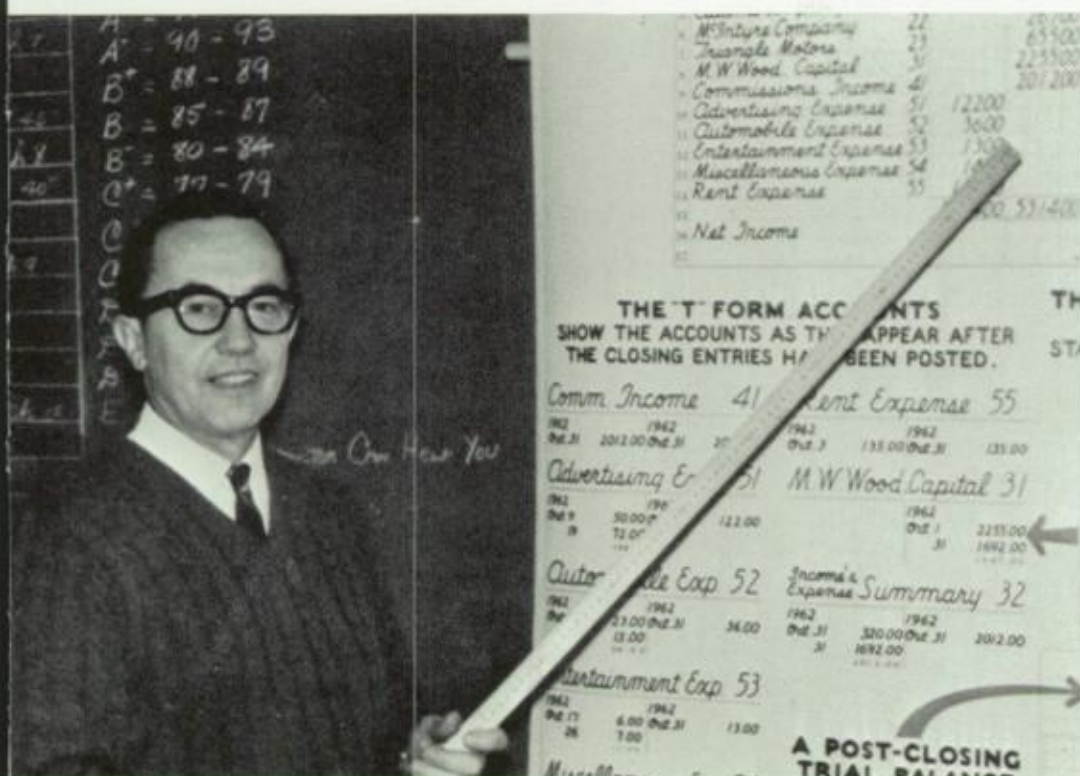

Mr. Thomas Carey, director of guidance and counseling, supervised guidance operations.

Mr. David Kempker, in addition to his counseling duties, is head football coach.

Mrs. Carol Van Lente, East Unit counselor, could often be seen supervising the Athletic Sisters promotions.

In addition to teaching bookkeeping, Mr. Fred Winter also instructs a class in Bible.

Mrs. Evelyn Vukin is dedicated to helping frustrated typists to perfect their skills.

The newest member of the department is Miss Lynn Kettring who teaches shorthand and typing.

Business courses provided necessary work skills

Miss Virginia DeWitt acts as chairman of the Business Department as well as teaching office training courses.

The Business Department aimed its instruction at future clerks, businessmen, typists, and secretaries. Students labored long hours to acquire basic or advanced skills and were rewarded with the ability to meet the tough standards of the business world. Non-business majors took typing to aid them in college or personal work.

The Holland High Art Department is aimed at encouraging student creativity. Students may take courses ranging from first and second year art to more advanced studio and commercial art courses. Fundamental art techniques are taught in the basic courses while advanced students work with more individual freedom in commercial and studio art. During the year a continuous exhibition of student art work is displayed in the Gallery of the Herrick Art Center.

Mr. William Magsig, in his second year at HHS teaches first year art and geography.

Mrs. Jeanne Visscher, head of the Art Department, teaches Art III and IV and studio art.

Art classes outlet for student creativity

The commercial art students are taught by Mrs. Bonnie Aardema who is new to the system this year.

Performances kept Music Department busy in '69

Comprising the Music Department are band, orchestra, boys' and girls' glee clubs, choir, and madrigal ensemble. In each of these courses students acquire the ability to communicate musically both in a group and individually. Emphasis is placed on the development of talent and skills necessary for self expression.

The band and orchestra participated in various activities such as concerts, festivals, and Tulip Time. The vocal music part of the Department was kept busy performing in madrigal festivals, the Midwestern Music Conference, and the Spring Choral Festival. Both the vocal and instrumental areas performed at many school functions.

Mr. Carl Dephouse is director of the Holland High Marching and Concert bands.

Mr. Gerrit Van Ravenswaay, orchestra director, coordinates the development of Holland High's string program.

Mr. Harvey Meyer directs the many activities of the Vocal Music Department.

English Department offered a varied curriculum

Besides teaching sophomore English, Mr. David Lightfoot is Boomerang and Herald advisor.

American literature and advanced composition are Mrs. Carol Gargano's assignment.

Drama buffs could take the drama course taught by Mr. Olin Van Lare. He also taught junior and senior literature.

Mrs. Linda Eshelman teaches American Lit to peppy juniors.

Contemporary Lit, American Lit, and reading occupy the teaching load of Mr. Robert Chard.

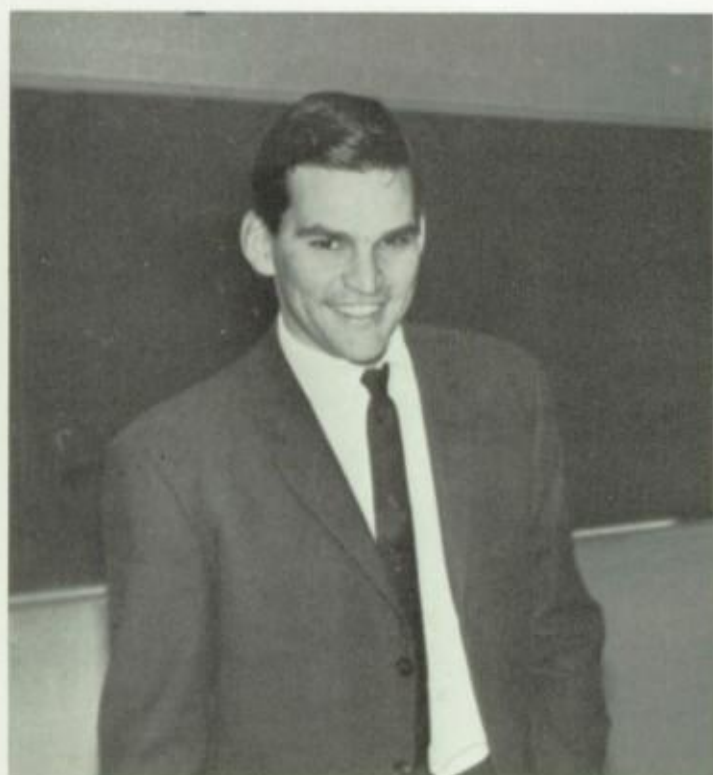

Development of an appreciation for literature was a major goal of English teachers during 1968-69. Vocabulary, usage, and writing skills were strengthened in each grade level through the use of word lists, exercises in sentence structure, and studies in styles of writing. Speech classes gave students a chance to improve speaking abilities before groups. The emphasis of the HHS English program is to prepare students to cope with future communication whether in college, business, or general day-to-day living.

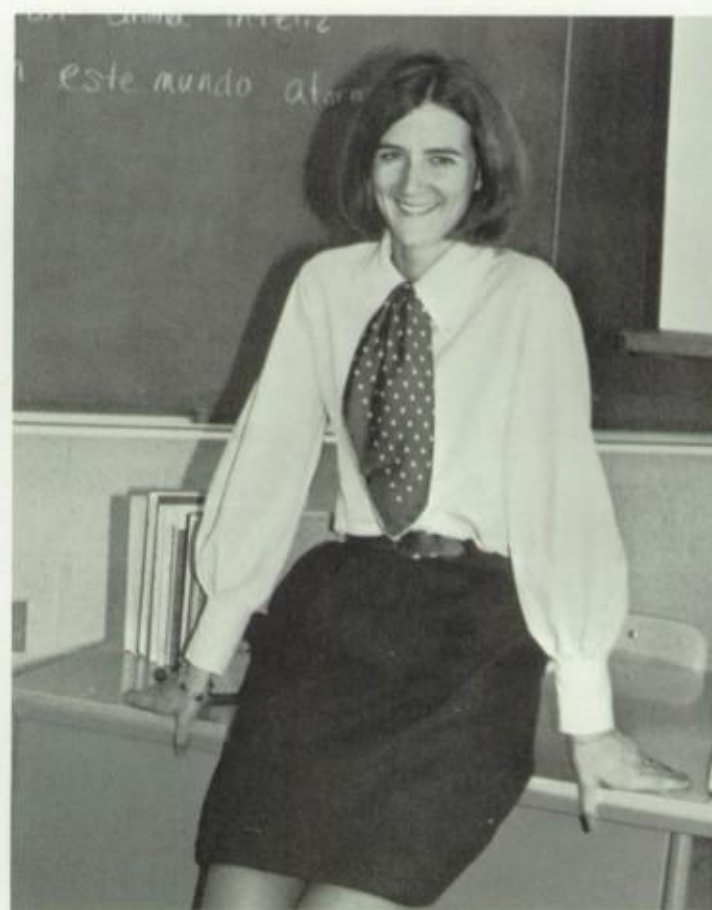

English lit instructor Mr. Jon Anderson is also Holland High's director of theatre arts.

Mr. Ken Taylor, besides team-teaching sophomore English, is chairman of the English Department.

New German teacher Mr. Rein Wolfert is a native of Holland—the one in Europe, not Michigan.

Mrs. Kathryn Leggett teaches her students the language and culture of the Spanish-speaking peoples.

Languages broadened students' knowledge of foreign cultures

French teacher and Senior Class sponsor Miss Natalie Bosman gives cheerful help to all her students.

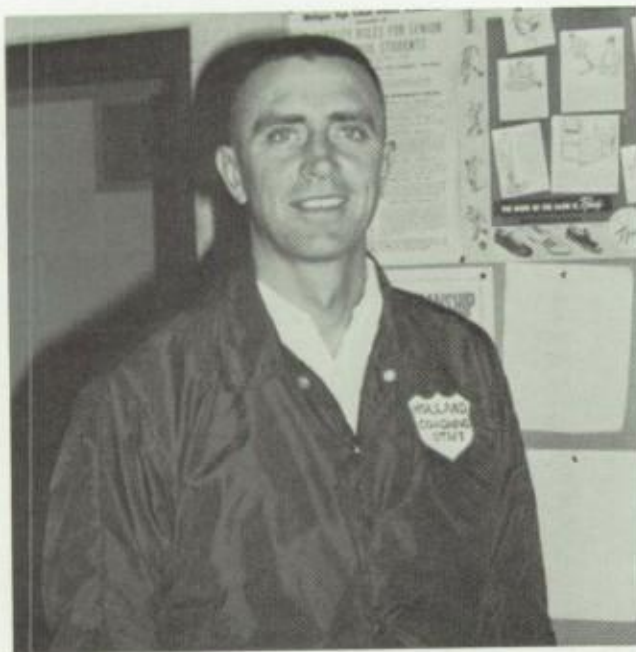

Besides teaching Latin, Miss Harriet Mulder instructs sophomore English classes.

The Foreign Language Department sought to broaden students' world by giving them a fuller understanding of other languages and cultures. French, German, and Spanish courses were offered through the 4th year while Latin provided students a foundation in the classics and improved English grammar and vocabulary.

Mr. Don Piersma is the head basketball coach for the Dutch.

Phy Ed Department kept everyone in shape

Athletic Director Mr. Ken Bauman also coaches the Little Dutch basketball team.

Mrs. Jackie Van Wieren is kept busy with the many activities of the GAA.

The chief duties of the Physical Education Department were in the heavy schedule of gym classes and sports activities. Juniors and sophomores experienced activities ranging from modern dance to weight-lifting. Rigorous workouts kept all "in shape." Physical fitness tests were administered during the year. Instructors themselves found time to "work out" and teachers straining under weights or running laps were a familiar sights in the fieldhouse.

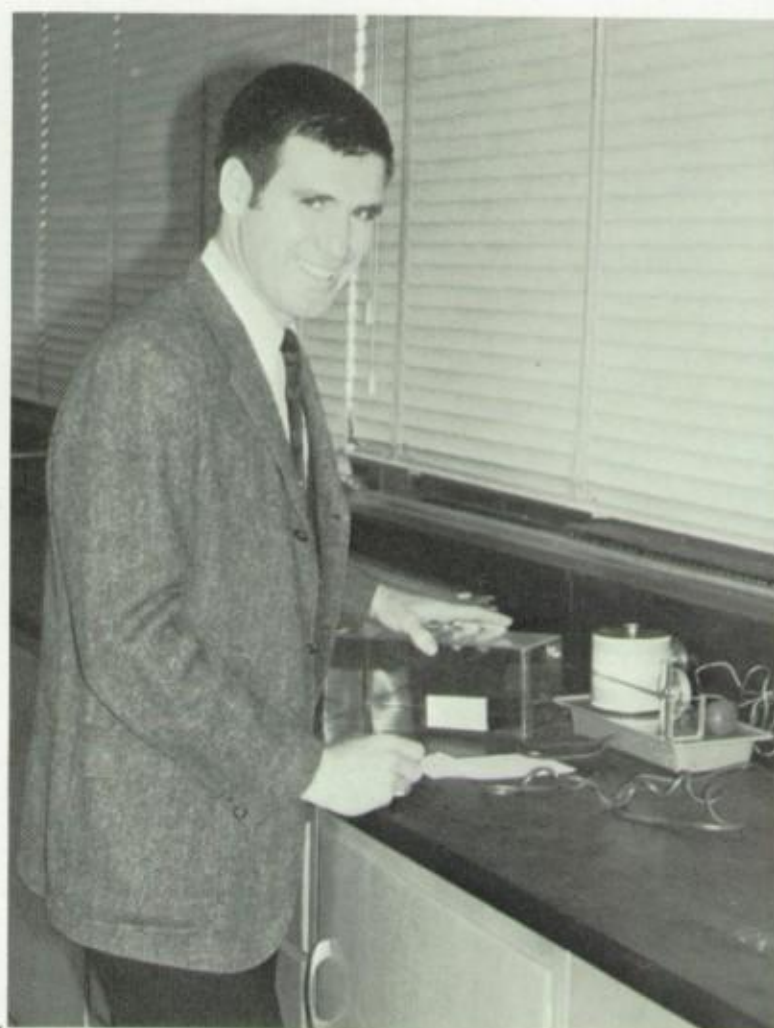

Dutch Dance, gymnastics, and coaching the cheerleaders filled the busy schedule of Miss Julie Keefer.

Science Department courses ranged from physical science to physiology

Physical science and electronics instructor Mr. Charles Van Zylén is shown with an oscilloscope used in his electricity class.

Mr. Al Osman, a newcomer to the Holland system, teaches physics and algebra.

Mr. Wilbus Johnson, Holland High's chemistry teacher, takes a solid approach to a difficult course.

Mr. Roger Plagenhoef made his biology classes more humorous with light moments to offset hard work.

Mr. Dirk Bloemendaal's physiology and biology courses were college preparatory in nature.

From physical science to physiology, the science courses this year offered hard work with ensuing rewards to any student inquisitive enough to take up the challenge. With many courses based on a college-prep scheme, the Science Department aimed at understanding scientific facts and phenomena. Challenge and tough assignments characterized the science program, along with the many lighter moments which punctuated the atmosphere of thoroughness, thought, and precision.

A new addition to the department this year is Mr. Michael Rybarcyk who teaches biology.

JV football and baseball and world history were the schedule for Mr. Carl Selover.

Psychology, a very popular course for seniors was taught by Mrs. Alice Beukema.

Mrs. Ruth Vrieling, sponsor of the National Honor Society, split her time between U.S. history and junior English.

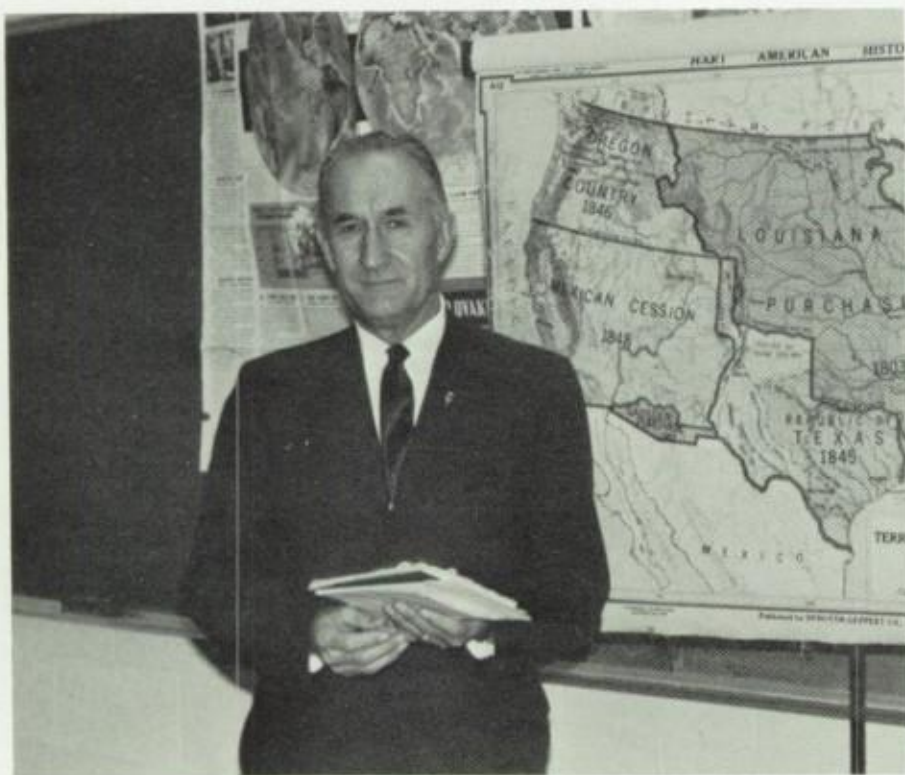

Besides the variety of history courses offered by the Social Studies Department, other courses dealing with the concerns, problems, and achievements of man were offered. Psychology and government were courses many seniors elected. Underclassmen, as well as seniors, could elect Michigan history, geography, or social problems.

Social Studies prepared students for democratic society

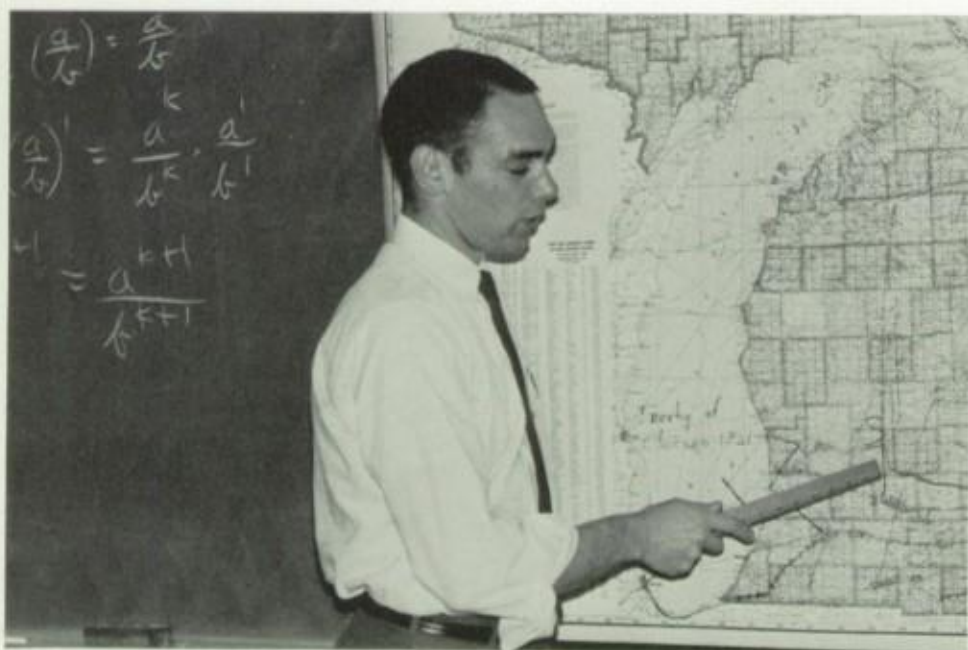

Teaching U.S. history and coaching the Holland High golfers, fills the schedule of Mr. Ted Boeve.

Miss Barbara Lampen, the chairman of the Social Studies Department, teaches modern history and western civ.

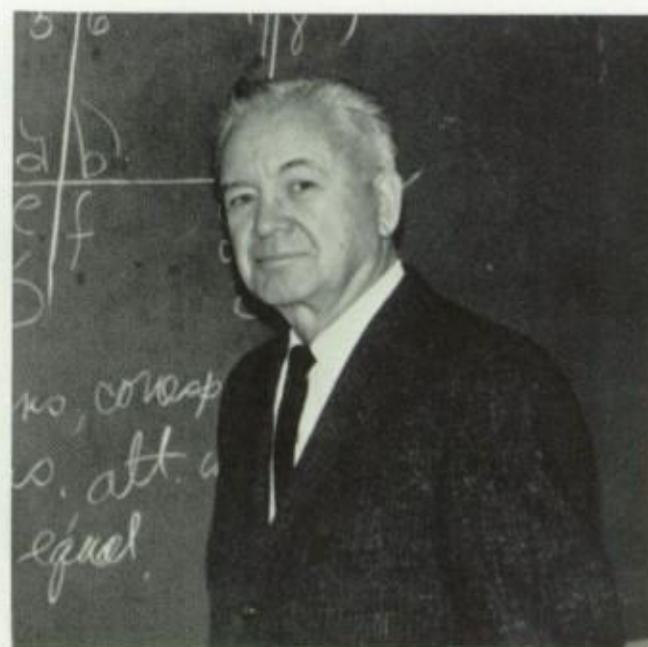

Mr. Ed Damson acts as Senior Class sponsor and his teaching assignment is senior government.

Preparation for democratic living, intelligent voting, and a basic appreciation for man's past endeavors and achievements are the major concerns of the Social Studies Department. The Department directs its efforts to help understand the development of our present society. Students could elect a variety of history courses including U.S. history required of all juniors and optional courses such as world history, western civilization, and modern history.

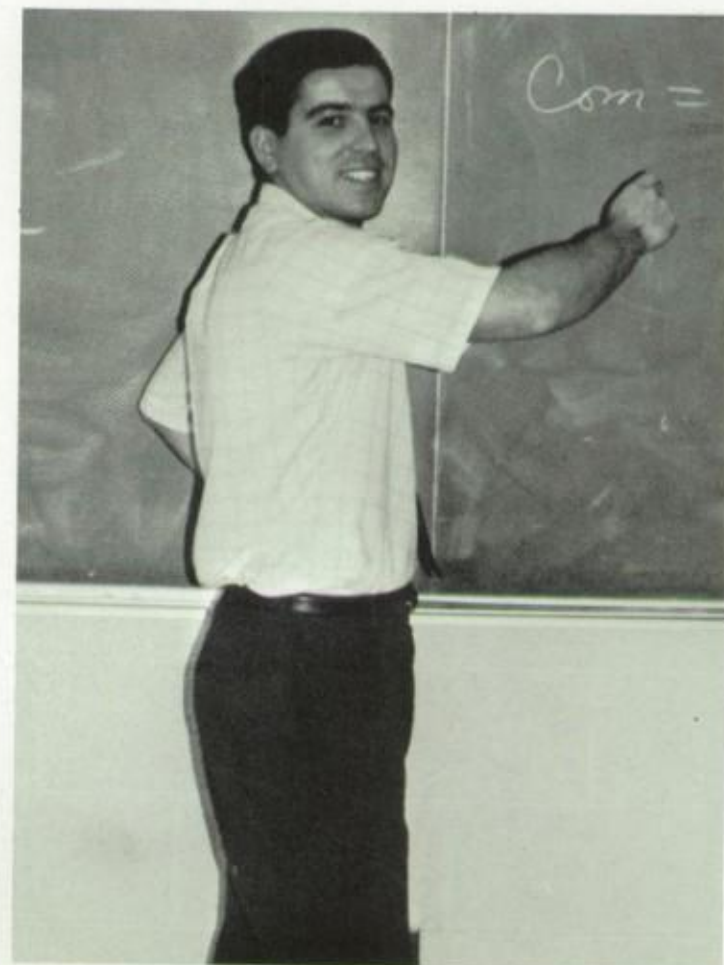

Mr. Richard Darby is kept busy with senior math, Michigan history, Senior Class sponsor, and cross country coaching.

Mr. Ray Swank is familiar to many sophomores as he teaches geometry.

Mathematics required for graduation

" $\frac{2}{3}x > 7 \cdot 3x(\frac{1}{4})!$ Solve for X." Problems like this one often echoed from the classrooms of the Math Department. All students of Holland High entered the study of mathematics, whether to gain the required one year of math for graduation, or to study advanced mathematics for use in mathematical, engineering, or business careers. The Department emphasized understanding math processes and abstract thinking instead of pure memorization.

Football, wrestling, and track coaching plus algebra and business math keep Mr. Clyde Line on the go.

Teaching geometry and coaching football and baseball is the assignment of Mr. Ray Backus.

Industrial Arts prepared students for work

New to the Industrial Arts Department this year is Mr. Joe Tremml who teaches printing and type.

Mechanical drawing instructor Mr. Harold Tregloan is also the sponsor of the HHS Ski Club.

Mr. Carl Todd is responsible for the machine shop program of HHS.

Wood shop teacher Mr. John Dyksterhouse is also in his first year at Holland High.

Specialists rounded out HHS curriculum

Teaching HHS girls to cook and sew is the province of Mrs. Janet Lightfoot, home ec instructor.

Special education instructor in the West Unit is Mrs. Ruth Boone.

The center of the campus—the library—is under the direction of HHS Librarian Miss Judy Mastenbrook.

To round out the academic program of Holland High School, specialists direct certain areas of HHS's academic life. The library is the center, both physically and academically of the campus. Any HHS girl may gain knowledge in the domestic arts by taking homemaking. Two special education teachers direct that program which serve the Holland area. Audio-visual materials are extensively used.

Mrs. Helen Brownson is the East Unit special education teacher.

Mr. Jack Aussicker directs audio-visual media.

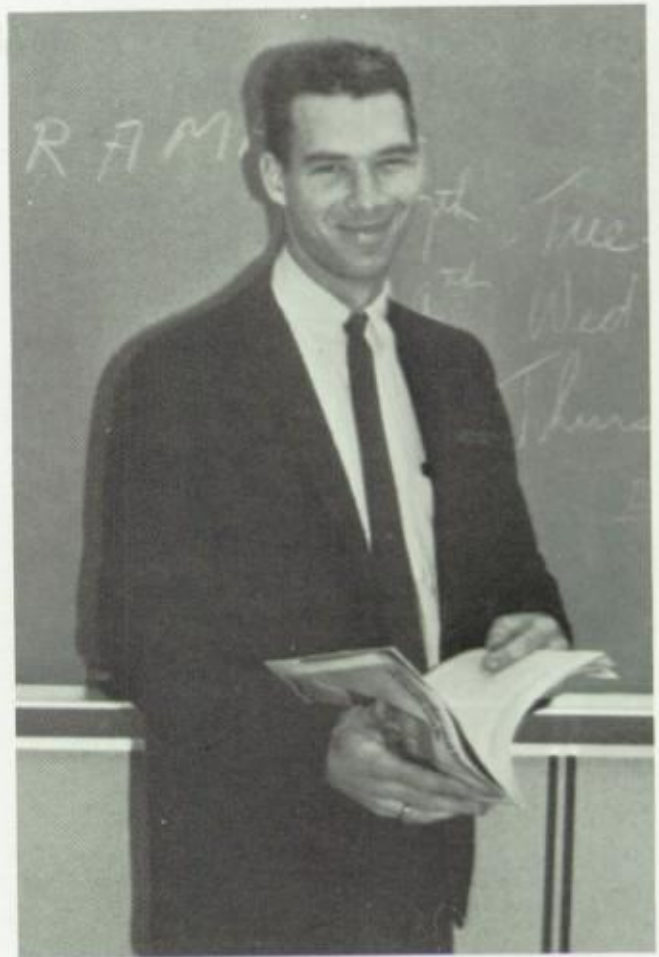

Job training awaited co-op students

The Holland area co-operative training program gave a large number of HHS seniors an opportunity for on-the-job training. A student could be placed in the areas of distributive ed, trade and industry, or office training. Co-op jobs ranged from working in local stores to service jobs in the hospitals and schools.

Several HHS boys in building trades, offered in conjunction with West Ottawa, were also supervised by the Co-op director.

Office placement and supervision are the responsibilities of Mr. Robert Clark.

Supervising the on-the-job retailing programs of three schools keeps Mr. Dan Goodwin busy.

Mr. Miles Runk supervises the trade and industry area of the co-op training program.

Director of the area co-operative training program is Mr. Donald Gebraad.

Secretaries kept HHS running smoothly

Daily attendance is the major concern of Mrs. Pearl Geertman.

Sorting mail, recording roll, typing letters, and keeping records were just a few of the jobs efficiently carried out by the secretaries of HHS. Besides keeping the offices running smoothly, the secretaries helped the counselors with the scheduling of appointments and collected money for the many activities of Holland High.

Mrs. Harriet Smith is the helpful clerk of the East Unit.

Mrs. Ila Schutt efficiently runs the main office as the principal's secretary.

West Unit clerk is Mrs. Arnolda Otting.

Cataloging books is Mrs. Lucille Steggerda, library clerk.

Custodial staff kept campus in tip-top shape

Custodian Brick Israels is a familiar sight to East Unit students.

HHS Custodians John Yonker, John Risselada, and Ike DeNeff enjoy a brief respite at day's end.

No matter how messy the Commons, classrooms, or hall areas get, students and faculty are greeted each morning by sparkling clean facilities. This cleanliness, of course, is due to HHS's fine custodial staff under John Risselada's direction. Without the efforts of this dedicated staff, Holland High would soon disappear under a huge pile of rubble.

In Memoriam . . .

Robert Daniel Chard

February 19, 1969, the Holland High School community was saddened by the untimely passing of Robert Daniel Chard. Mr. Chard had served the students of Holland High for the past sixteen years. During most of those sixteen years, he served as a senior sponsor. He had also directed the Senior Play and until this year was the faculty advisor for the Herald and this yearbook.

The Boomerang staff wishes to pay tribute to the memory of Mr. Chard and we are confident that each of his students from these past sixteen years has been touched by his genuine love of his students and his concern for their problems.

New horizons beckoned Class of '69

The officers of the class of '69, along with the Executive Board, worked on projects ranging from collecting senior fees to producing the Senior Play to spearheading the Senior Class for Pep Week. Officers were: Claudia Unruh, secretary (West), Vicki Vrieling, vice-president (West), Linda Turpin, vice-president (East), Mary Waskerwitz, treasurer (West), Steve Browe, president, Lyn Wangen, secretary (East). Senior sponsors were Miss Bosman (above), Mr. Darby, Mr. Damson, and Mr. Chard. Not pictured is Lois Veenhoven, treasurer (East).

Some final thoughts . . .

This year the Boomerang staff has attempted to tell the story of the school year 1968-69. In presenting this story, we have tried to place emphasis on the activities in which the largest number of students participated or attended. We have also tried to make improvements in the book. In addition to the pictures taken by our invaluable photographers, we have also added four full color pictures and a faculty index.

One of the assistant editors remarked that all the members of the Boomerang staff are procrastinators. This is partially true, but if procrastination is one characteristic, then dependability is another. Assigned job may have been done at the last minute but they were done. Our advisor, Mr. Lightfoot, without whom there would have been no Boomerang, sweated over the deadlines but the staff always came through—at least almost always.

It is our sincere hope that you will enjoy reading this year's Boomerang as much as we enjoyed putting it together.
